The college has a Women Development Cell, working on the guidelines of the University of Mumbai. It continuously arranges programmes, workshop etc to insist upon the idea of 'Gender Equity'.

ABOUT UNIVERSITY OF MUMBAI - WOMEN'S DEVELOPMENT CELL (UWDC):

The Women Development Cell (WDC) was established in the University of Mumbai in the year 2001. It was done by the then Hon. Vice Chancellor of the University. The establishment of the WDC is indeed a landmark achievement of the University in pursuance of the policies of women empowerment within the University ambit. The aim is to build a gender sensitive campus. The University has set up the WDC to address concerns of gender discrimination and recommend measures and policies for gender parity at the University. The aim and objective of the WDC is to prevent sexual harassment at workplace (colleges and university campuses) and to promote general well-being of female students, teaching and non-teaching women staff on the University and colleges. The cell is also responsible to undertake the awareness programmes on gender sensitization, women's rights and women empowerment in University campuses and colleges.

OBJECTIVES OF THE WEBINAR:

The aim of the webinar is to provide young minds with a genuine platform amid this uncertainty, enabling them to address their issues related to it. To generate enough strength to speak to demand for integrated mental health with the psycho-sociological environment specially during this period.

1. To discuss the concept of mental health during Covid-19 and mental well-being.
2. To understand this in context of quarantine and isolation but simultaneously orient their skills of mindfulness for supporting the personal well-being.
3. To promote positive personality, emotional stability to cope with the Covid-19 threats and challenges and have the preparedness to handle it.
4. To explore tips, resources and strategies to manage oneself during this phase and speak to the experts on ways to overcome anxiety.
5. The main aim of it is to raise awareness about potential stressors triggered during pandemic in the academic community also.

CONCEPT NOTE OF THE WEBINAR:

The spread of COVID 19 has led to an acute global crisis in the form of a pandemic. As scientists across the world strive to understand and cure the virus, governments across the world are trying to adopt policies and implement strategies best suited to their own contexts. In India, the government declared the first 21 day pandemic lockdown on March 24th 2020. Due to the sudden nature of the announcement, millions of Indian people have been left confused and stranded. Loss of home and loss of livelihood are becoming the cause of several deaths even as the corona deaths are on the rise. As women we realize that the pandemic is not gender neutral. Neither is it neutral to class, or caste, or sexuality. People already marginalised and stigmatized, are the worst hit by the pandemic lockdowns. As 'stay at home' becomes the dictum of the pandemic lockdown, statistics on increased domestic violence pour in. Further, due to orders of 'work from home' issued across various sectors, women's work at home has increased enormously. Not surprisingly, many women have lost their livelihoods and income. Our everyday worlds are witnessing newer forms of patriarchy. As academics and teachers, we are struggling with a non-face to face form of teaching. Our profession, so deeply tied to the idea of personal connect, is redefining itself in startling ways. How will we restore a pedagogic intimacy in the coming world? As we ponder over our own predicament as students and teachers, it becomes important for us not to lose ourselves in the professional race to win, not just to show our online prowess and power. It becomes important for us to draw from within the deepest core of our being, a sensitivity that surpasses any we have seen in our lifetime. The most important task of what we do as academics is critical and empathic reflection on our worlds. This Webinar Series is conceptualized by the Women's Development Cell of the University of Mumbai within the impulse to reflect, pause and think- from the perspectives of the poorest of the poor, the most marginal of the marginal. And dedicate ourselves to the task of re-imagining a just Post COVID world. Conducted in association with its host colleges, we hope the Webinar Series will lead to constructive dialogues among activists, academics and policy makers.
