

I HAVE A DREAM

- BY RASHMI BANSAL

Rashmi Bansal is a writer, entrepreneur and youth expert. She is the author of two best-selling books on entrepreneurship. The book 'I have a dream' contains inspiring story of 20 social entrepreneurs who took up a social cause and made a business out of it. And they have done it by using new ways to solve the old problems. Their motive is not to earn money, but to make difference in the lives of people around them. It encourages the ordinary mind to think of extraordinary ideas.

This book through the story of 20 entrepreneurs reflects how the problems of the society can be solved in innovative techniques. The book is divided in three categories - RAINMAKERS, CHANGE MAKERS and THE SPIRITUAL CAPITALISTS. The first part of 'Rainmakers' includes businesses with primary aim of not earning profit but helping the society. It includes the the inspiring story of Anand Kumar, who has a coaching class Super 30 , where he teaches 30 poor students for preparation of IIT JEE exams. The 'Change makers' section tells us about people who achieved success by taking small steps. 'Spiritual Capatalists' includes the stories of Madhu Pandit Dasa and Vinay Lakhani of Parivaar Ashram.

The people described in these books were the least qualified and least resourceful to do what they did. But they just did not bother about all that and went ahead and achieved their dreams due to their strong determination. This book clearly inspires us in positive way and give us examples to look up to.

The book conveys one message loud and clear – “If you have purity of intention and are ready to serve with your heart, the society will support you with all the required resources.”
