About our esteemed Chief Guest & Keynote Speaker:

Dr. Koppillil Radhakrishnan

Former Chairman, Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO)

Dr. Koppillil Radhakrishnan, is a Technocrat par excellence; a dynamic and result-oriented Manager with very fine personal and inter-personal qualities; an astute Institution-builder with a strategic vision; an able and diligent Administrator with a positive attitude; and an inspiring Leader with a rather rare skill of nurturing leadership in the younger generation. He has had a distinguished career adorned with accomplishments spanning beyond 41 years in space technology, applications and space programme management.

He had commendably held the post of Director, Vikram Sarabhai Space Centre, the lead centre for launch vehicle technology in ISRO and Director, National Remote Sensing Agency. In his brief stint (2000-2005) in the Ministry of Earth Sciences, he had also been the Founder Director of Indian National Centre for Ocean Information Services (INCOIS) and the first Project Director of Indian National Tsunami Warning System. He also held several important positions at the international level including Vice Chairman of Intergovernmental Oceanographic Commission (2001-05), Founder Chairman of Indian Ocean Global Ocean Observing System (2001-06) and Chairman of the Working Group of the Whole UN-COPUOS STSC (2008-2009).

As Director, VSSC, he oversaw five successful Polar Satellite Launch Vehicle Missions that orbited 21 Satellites precisely into the desired Earth Orbits (including Chandrayaan-1, Cartosat-2A, Indian Mini Satellite-1, RISAT-2, Oceansat-2, and two major foreign commercial satellites POLARIS and AGILE, and 14 foreign Nano-satellites)

Under his direction as Chairman, ISRO, 37 Indian Space Missions (Launch Vehicles & Satellites) were executed since October 2009. These Missions include 20 spacecraft missions, 15 launch vehicle missions and latest being the experimental flight of LVM3 launcher carrying an un-manned crew module. Under his effective leadership, India's first planetary exploration--the Mars Orbiter Mission--was conceived, planned and executed with a great deal of originality. India became the first country in the world to have succeeded in reaching the Planet Mars in its maiden attempt.

Dr. Radhakrishnan is recipient of numerous accolades including the prestigious Allan D Emil Memorial Award from International Astronautical Federation; "Distinguished Alumnus Award" of IIT Kharagpur (2010) and of IIM Bangalore (2010); Vikram Sarabhai Memorial Award of Indian Science Congress. (2010); Social Sciences Award (2009) of the International Academy of Astronautics; Athivishishta Rajakeeya Puraskaram – "Sastra Ratna" by the Pazhassiraja Charitable Trust (2010); Dr. Y. Nayudamma Memorial Award of Andhra Pradesh Academy of Sciences (2009); BHASKARA Award of Indian Society of Remote Sensing (2008); Silver Jubilee Honour by Ministry of Earth Sciences (2006); VASVIK Industrial Research Award in the field of Electrical and Electronics Sciences & Technology (2005); and K.R. Ramanathan Memorial Gold Medal of Indian Geophysical Union (2003). In 2014 he was bestowed with the coveted Padma-Bhushan, the third highest civilian honour in the country. Dr. Radhakrishnan has been conferred Honorary Doctorates by as many as ten Indian Universities (i) Amity University, (ii) IIT Kharagpur, (iii) Shri Krishnadevaraya University, Anantpur; (iv) Pandit. Ravishankar Shukla University, Raipur; (v) KIIT University, Bhubaneswar; (vi) Sri Venkateswara University, Tirupati; (vii) Rajasthan Technical University, Kota; (viii) GITAM University, Visakhapatnam, (ix) Tumkur University and (x) SRM University, Chennai.

Dr. Radhakrishnan has contributed to academia in several ways. He had been author/co-author for more than 55 publications. Indian Space Programme have carried the signatures of the strong leadership of Dr. Radhakrishnan with focussed thrust towards (a) space applications for societal services and national imperatives; (b) creation, management and sustenance capability and capacity for space systems; (d) undertaking new and path-breaking missions (e) development of several critical technologies ; and most importantly (f) ensuring synergy of 16,000 strong ISRO Team with Indian Industry, Academia, User community and several National R&D Laboratories.
